Sexting Policy

What is the purpose of the guidance?

This practice guidance has been written to assist the Designated Safeguarding Lead for Child Protection (DSL) in dealing with incidents of sexting, to ensure effective safeguarding practice. The guidance should be read in conjunction with the school Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy and the UKCCIS (UK council for child internet safety) Sexting in Schools Guidance (2017)

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/sexting-in-schools-and-colleges>

Who is it for and when should it be used?

The guidance is mainly relevant to staff working with primary aged children, although will also apply in some circumstances to older children with additional needs.

Definition of 'sexting'

There are a number of definitions of sexting but for the purpose of this advice sexting is simply defined as images or videos generated:

- by children under the age of 18, or
- of children under the age of 18 that are of a sexual nature or are indecent.

These images are shared between young people and/or adults via a mobile phone, handheld device or website with people they may not even know. There are many different types of sexting and it is likely that no two cases will be the same. It is necessary to carefully consider each case on its own merit. It is important to apply a consistent approach when dealing with an incident to help protect yourself, the school and the child. The range of contributory factors in each case also needs to be considered in order to determine an appropriate and proportionate response. All staff should be familiar with this policy.

Dealing with Incidents of Sexting – Steps to take in the case of an incident

STEP 1: Disclosure by a child

Sexting disclosures should follow school's normal safeguarding practices. A child is likely to be very distressed, especially if the image has been circulated widely and if they don't know who has shared it, seen it or where it has ended up. They will need support during the disclosure and after the event. They may even need immediate protection or a referral to Referral and Assessment at the MASSS. The following questions will help decide upon the best course of action:

- Is the child disclosing about themselves receiving an image, sending an image or sharing an image?

- What sort of image is it? Is it potentially illegal or is it inappropriate?
- Is the school's Safeguarding Policy and practices being followed? For example, is the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) on hand and is their advice and support available?
- How widely has the image been shared and is the device in their possession?
- Is it a school device or a personal device?
- Does the child need immediate support and/or protection?
- Are there other children and/or young people involved?
- Do they know where the image has ended up? The situation will need to be handled very sensitively to ensure the school Safeguarding and On-line Safety policies and practices are adhered to.

STEP 2: Searching a device – what are the rules?

In a school-based context, it is highly likely that the image will have been created and potentially shared through mobile devices. It may be that the image is not on one single device: it may be on a website or on a multitude of devices; it may be on either a school-owned or personal device. It is important to establish the location of the image but be aware that this may be distressing for the young person involved, so be conscious of the support they may need.

The revised Education Act 2011 brought to bear significant new powers and freedoms for teachers and schools. Essentially, the Act gives schools and/or teachers the power to seize and search an electronic device if they think there is good reason for doing so. A device can be examined, confiscated and securely stored if there is reason to believe it contains indecent images or extreme pornography.

When searching a mobile device, the following conditions should apply:

- The action is in accordance with the school's Safeguarding and On-line Safety policies
- The search is conducted by the Head Teacher or a person authorised by them
- The DSL or a deputy is present
- The search is conducted by a member of the same sex
- If any illegal images of a child are found, you should consider whether to inform the police. Any conduct involving, or possibly involving, the knowledge or participation of adults should always be referred to the police. If an "experimental" incident is not referred to the police, the reasons for this should be recorded in writing. Always put the child first.
- Do not search the device if this will cause additional stress to the child/person whose image has been distributed.

Never:

- Search a mobile device even in response to an allegation or disclosure if this is likely to cause additional stress to the child UNLESS there is clear evidence to suggest that there is an immediate problem
- Print out any material for evidence
- Move any material from one storage device to another

Always:

- Inform the school's Designated Safeguarding Lead
- Record the incident
- Act in accordance with school Safeguarding Policy and procedures
- Inform relevant colleagues/senior management team about the alleged incident before searching a device

If there is an indecent image of a child on a website or a social networking site, then you should report the image to the site hosting it.

Under normal circumstances you would follow the reporting procedures on the respective website; however, in the case of a sexting incident involving a child or young person where you feel that they may be at risk of abuse, then you should report the incident directly to CEOP www.ceop.police.uk/ceop-report, so that law enforcement can make an assessment, expedite the case with the relevant provider and ensure that appropriate action is taken to safeguard the child.

STEP 3 - What to do and not do with the image.

If the image has been shared across a personal mobile device:

Always:

- Confiscate and secure the device(s)

Never:

- View the image unless there is a clear reason to do so (see above)
- Send, share, copy or save the image anywhere
- Allow children to do any of the above

If the image has been shared across a school network, a website or a social network:

Always:

- Block the network to all users and isolate the image

Never:

- Send, share, copy or save the image
- Move the material from one place to another
- View the image outside of the protocols in the school's Safeguarding Policy and procedures.

STEP 4 - Who should deal with the incident?

Often, the first port of call for a child is a class teacher. Whoever the initial disclosure is made to must act in accordance with the school's Safeguarding Policy, ensuring that the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) or a deputy DSL are involved in dealing with the incident. The DSL should always record the incident using the school's Safeguarding Concerns Form and also log the incident in the school's On-line Safety log. There may be instances where the image needs to be viewed and this should be done in accordance with protocols. The best interests of the child should always come first; if viewing the image is likely to cause additional stress, professionals should make a judgement about whether or not it is appropriate to do so.

STEP 5 - Deciding on a response

There may be a multitude of reasons why a child has engaged in sexting – it may be a romantic/sexual exploration scenario or it may be due to coercion. It is important to remember that it won't always be appropriate to inform the police; this will depend on the nature of the incident. However, as a school it is important that incidents are consistently recorded. It may also be necessary to assist the young person in removing the image from a website or elsewhere.

Always:

- Act in accordance with the school's Safeguarding Policy
- Store the device securely
- Contact the Safeguarding in Education Team for advice (01204 337472/331314)
- Carry out an Early Help Assessment in relation to the child
- Contact the police (if appropriate)
- Contact the Referral and Assessment Team (01204 331500)
- Put the necessary safeguards in place for the child, e.g. they may need counselling support, immediate protection and parents must also be informed.
- Inform parents and/or carers about the incident and how it is being managed.

Depending on the nature of the incident and the response, you may also consider contacting your local police or referring the incident to CEOP. www.ceop.police.uk

Responding to a Sexting Incident Flow Chart

UPDATED BOLTON GUIDANCE JANUARY 2022

What is the purpose of the guidance?

This practice guidance has been written to assist the Designated Safeguarding Lead for Child Protection (DSL) in dealing with incidents of sharing nude or semi-nude images, to ensure effective safeguarding practice. The guidance should be read in conjunction with the school/college Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy, the UKCCIS (UK council for child internet safety) and Sharing nudes and semi-nudes: advice for education settings working with children and young people.

Who is it for and when should it be used?

The guidance is relevant to staff working with children under the age of 18. The guidance should be used when education setting become aware of nudes and semi-nude images and videos being shared.

‘Sharing nudes and semi-nudes’: definition

This advice uses the term ‘sharing nudes and semi-nudes’ to mean the sending or posting of nude or semi-nude images, videos or live streams by young people under the age of 18 online. This could be via social media, gaming platforms, chat apps or forums. It could also involve sharing between devices via services like Apple’s AirDrop which works offline.

The term ‘nudes’ is used as it is most commonly recognised by young people and more appropriately covers all types of image sharing incidents. Alternative terms used by children and young people may include ‘dick pics’ or ‘pics’.

The motivations for taking and sharing nude and semi-nude images, videos and live streams are not always sexually or criminally motivated. Such images may be created and shared consensually by young people who are in relationships, as well as between those who are not in a relationship. It is also possible for a young person in a consensual relationship to be coerced into sharing an image with their partner. Incidents may also occur where:

- Children and young people find nudes and semi-nudes online and share them claiming to be from a peer
- Children and young people digitally manipulate an image of a young person into an existing nude online
- Images created or shared are used to abuse peers e.g. by selling images online or obtaining images to share more widely without consent to publicly shame

The sharing of nudes and semi-nudes can happen publicly online, in 1:1 messaging or via group chats and closed social media accounts.

Nude or semi-nude images, videos or live streams may include more than one child or young person.

Creating and sharing nudes and semi-nudes of under-18s (including those created and shared with consent) is illegal which makes responding to incidents involving children and young people complex. There are also a range of risks which need careful management from those working in education settings.

Sharing nude and semi-nude images - Steps to take when dealing with these incidents

STEP 1: Becoming aware of an image

Disclosures around sharing such images will follow normal safeguarding practices. A child or young person is likely to be very distressed, especially if the image has been circulated widely and if they don't know who has shared it, seen it or where it has ended up. They will need support during the disclosure and after the event. They may even need immediate protection or a referral to the Integrated Front Door.

The following questions will help decide upon the best course of action:

- Is the child disclosing about themselves receiving an image, sending an image or sharing an image?
- What sort of image is it? Is it potentially illegal or is it inappropriate?
- Are the Safeguarding Policy and practices being followed? For example, is the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) on hand and is their advice and support available?
- How widely has the image been shared and is the device in their possession?
- Is it a school/college device or a personal device?
- Does the child need immediate support and/or protection?
- Are there other children and/or young people involved?
- Do they know where the image has ended up?

The situation will need to be handled very sensitively to ensure the Safeguarding and On-line Safety policies and practices are adhered to.

STEP 2: Searching a device – what are the rules?

It is highly likely that the image will have been created and potentially shared through mobile devices. It may be that the image is not on one single device: it may be on a website or on a multitude of devices; it may be on either a school/college-owned or personal device. It is important to establish the location of the image but be aware that this may be distressing for the young person involved, so be conscious of the support they may need.

The revised Education Act 2011 brought significant new powers and freedoms for teachers and education settings. Essentially, the Act gives schools/colleges and/or teachers the power to seize and search an electronic device if they think there is good reason for doing so.

A device can be examined, confiscated, and securely stored if there is reason to believe it contains indecent images or extreme pornography.

When searching a mobile device, the following conditions should apply:

- The search is conducted by the Head Teacher, or a person authorised by them
- The DSL or a deputy is present
- The search is conducted by a member of the same sex
- If any illegal images of a child are found, you should consider whether to inform the police. Any conduct involving, or possibly involving, the knowledge or participation of adults should always be referred to the police. If an “experimental” incident is not referred to the police, the reasons for this should be recorded in writing. Always put the child first
- Do not search the device if this will cause additional stress to the child/person whose image has been distributed

Always:

- Inform the school’s Designated Safeguarding Lead
- Record the incident
- Act in accordance with school Safeguarding Policy and procedures
- Inform relevant senior management team about the alleged incident before searching a device

Never:

- Search a mobile device even in response to an allegation or disclosure if this is likely to cause additional stress to the child UNLESS there is clear evidence to suggest that there is an immediate problem
- Print out any material for evidence
- Move any material from one storage device to another

STEP 3 - What to do and not do with the image.

If the image has been shared across a personal mobile device:

Always:

- Confiscate and secure the device(s)

Never:

- Send, share, copy or save the image anywhere
- Allow children to do any of the above

If the image has been shared across a school network, a website or a social network:

Always:

- Block the network to all users and isolate the image

Never:

- Send, share, copy or save the image
- Move the material from one place to another
- View the image without consultation with the DSL or without another member of staff present

STEP 4 - Who should deal with the incident?

Whoever the initial disclosure is made to will act in accordance with the Safeguarding Policy, ensuring that the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) or a deputy DSL are involved in dealing with the incident. The DSL will always record the incident using the school's safeguarding recording system.

STEP 5 - Deciding on a response

There may be a multitude of reasons why an image has been shared – it may be a romantic/sexual exploration scenario or it may be due to coercion. It is important to remember that it won't always be appropriate to inform the police; this will depend on the nature of the incident. However, it is important that incidents are consistently recorded. It may also be necessary to assist the young person in removing the image from a website or elsewhere.

Actions that will be taken/considered:

- Act in accordance with the school's Safeguarding Policy
- Store the device securely
- Contact the Safeguarding in Education Team for advice (01204 337472/331314)
- Offer support by carrying out a holistic Early Help Assessment
- Contact the police (if appropriate)
- Contact The Integrated Front Door (01204 331500)
- Put the necessary safeguards in place for the child, e.g. they may need counselling support, immediate protection
- Carry out work with the individual, class, year group, whole school. Use resources such as so-you-got-naked-online.pdf (swgfl.org.uk)
- Parents will be informed unless doing so would place the child at risk of further harm
- Inform parents and/or carers about how it is being managed

STEP 6 – Removing an image

To remove a nude image shared online: Report Remove: Remove a nude image shared online | Childline

How does Report Remove work?

1. Young people aged 13+ are first directed to Yoti to verify their age using ID (our legal remit means we can only remove images of children.) Children aged under 13 do not need to prove their age
2. Once children have proved they are younger than 18, they are prompted to create a Childline account, which allows them to be safeguarded and supported throughout the process
3. Young people are then taken to a dedicated IWF portal where they can securely upload images, videos or URLs (website addresses)
4. IWF analysts assess the reported content and take action if it meets the threshold of illegality*. The content is given a unique digital fingerprint (a hash) which is then shared with internet companies to help prevent the imagery from being uploaded or redistributed online
5. The outcome will be conveyed to Childline who will then contact the young person via their Childline account to keep them updated and offer further support

Reporting

In the case of nude or semi-nude images involving a child or young person where we feel that they may be at risk of abuse, then we will report the incident directly to CEOP (Child Exploitation and on line Protection) so that law enforcement can make an assessment, expedite the case with the relevant provider and ensure that appropriate action is taken to safeguard the child.
